Apollo Provides Best Motorhome in the World

Tourism Queensland's "Best Job in the World" finalists described their Apollo Euro Deluxe Motorhome as "so comfortable," and "fabulous" during a recent tour of Australia's East coast. World renowned recreational vehicle operator Apollo Motorhome Holidays sponsored Dutch finalist Magali Heuberger and Irish finalist George Karellas in an effort to support the highly successful marketing campaign.

Ms Heuberger said "I enjoyed the luxury of this huge home on wheels so much! Backpackers looked at us with curiosity, or maybe envy?"

"It was fabulous," added Mr Karellas. "The van was so comfortable. Thank you so much for my first taste of luxury motorhoming [sic]." He said Apollo staff were very friendly.

Apollo CEO Luke Trouchet said "Apollo is proud to support Tourism Queensland's campaign, particularly finalists from our key European markets. We're so glad Magali and George enjoyed their trip."

Ms Heuberger said "George and I loved sleeping in the king-sized beds, cooking in the kitchen and sitting outside under the awning. The driving was very comfortable too!"

As the largest privately owned recreational vehicle operator in the world, Apollo was founded in 1985. The motorhome, campervan and car rental business has developed several brands to service all markets and established a separate RV manufacturing arm, Talvor Motorhomes.
